INTRODUCTION

Thank you for volunteering for the Election Protection Team! Attorneys/poll watchers are critical to free and fair elections. Our goal is to make sure that everyone who is eligible to vote is allowed to vote and not discouraged in any way from voting. We watch for unlawful voter suppression and prohibited electioneering activities. We help ensure that if a voter meets an obstacle at the polls, the Election Judges offer the best options for voting a ballot that will be counted.

This Manual is a road map through the election process and the election laws governing federal and state elections in Illinois. No guide can anticipate every question, but careful review in advance will prepare you to deal with most issues you may encounter. You should have this Manual downloaded to your phone, tablet, or laptop to serve as a handy reference as you work.

You are our eyes and ears. By observing poll operations and activities occurring near polling places, you can identify issues and resolve them before they become problems. And if problems do occur, we can start the proper procedures for rectifying them. While we do not expect serious issues to arise in most of our polling places, it is better to be ready when they do so that we can deal with them quickly and effectively.

It's important to realize that your effectiveness as an attorney/poll watcher will depend on more than your knowledge of election law. You will interact with Election Judges, who are mostly ordinary citizens performing a crucial service. When mistakes occur, they are almost always honest ones and are rarely motivated by a political agenda. You will be most effective if you are perceived not as a partisan, but as someone who wants to get things right so voters can vote. Do your best to create a friendly working relationship with Election Judges before any problems arise. If an issue does arise, work with the Election Judges in a neutral and non-confrontational manner to show that your objections are motivated by fairness, not partisanship. If a matter escalates or a confrontation occurs, call the Hotline to seek assistance. But a calm, low-key approach based on a fair reading of the applicable rules usually leads to a good result.

Please review the whole Manual. Feel free to call any of us listed on the front with questions. When you are at a polling place, call the Hotline first, as it is constantly staffed. If you have trouble getting through, contact one of the Legal Coordinators by voice or by text.

Note: Never send texts to the Hotline; the Hotline cannot receive text messages.

WHAT YOU DO AS AN ATTORNEY/POLL WATCHER

Our goal is to make sure that every eligible voter who enters the polling place is allowed to vote. This is what you do to achieve that goal:

- Watch the polling place open or close.
- Watch Election Judges check in voters. In Lake County, during check-in Election Judges print a ballot, initial it, and hand it to the voter.
- Watch Election Judges hand out and initial ballots. This happens as part of the check-in process in Lake County. In Cook and McHenry Counties, voters receive a “receipt” with a ballot style number at check-in and are directed to a “Ballot Judge” who then initials and hands the voter a pre-printed ballot.
- Watch Election Judges help voters deposit ballots in the voting machines.
- Make sure that at the beginning of the day on Election Day and on the first day of Early Voting all voting machines are set to zero so that the first ballot counted is the first one deposited in that machine. (There are two counters on each machine: one records the machine’s total historical ballot count that shows the machine’s age; the other counter is the one that should be set to zero.)
- Make sure that the “Campaign-Free Zone” is properly demarcated and never moved during the day and that no electioneering occurs within that zone.
- Make sure no one is in the polling place who is not authorized to be there.
- Make sure that no activities are occurring outside the polling place that might suppress the vote.
- Make sure that signs outside the polling place are clearly visible to drivers so that voters can easily find the polling place and the proper entrance.
- Document any problems you encounter by reporting them to the Hotline and Legal Coordinators. If asked, document your observations in a declaration, using one of the forms in the Appendix and/or obtain a declaration from a voter.
- When there is an issue, make sure the Election Judges try to resolve that issue correctly, and in a manner most likely to lead to all voters’ ballots being counted.

Preparation

- Vote early or by mail. Taking time to vote on Election Day may hamper your effectiveness as an attorney/poll watcher.
- Know where you're going. When you get your Election Day assignment, make sure the address is in your phone and you know how to get there on time.
- Dress with the intention of being taken seriously by Election Judges and voters. Remove any partisan buttons, tee shirts, etc. from your clothes or bag before you enter a polling place. (If your car has partisan bumper stickers, be sure to park outside the Campaign-Free Zone.)
- If your shift covers the opening or closing of a polling place, leave yourself ample travel time. It's important that openers on Election Day and the first day of Early Voting observe set-up and confirm that the voting machine counters are set to zero. (There are two counters on each machine: one records the machine's total historical ballot count that shows the machine's age; the other counter is the one that should be set to zero.) Closers must be inside the polling place before closing time, even if voters are still in line.
- Make sure you have enough signed credentials for the county or counties where you've been assigned.
- Make sure your cellphone is fully charged and that the phone numbers on this Manual's front page have been saved to your "Contacts."
- Save this Manual to your cellphone (or tablet or laptop).
- Have paper and pens with you, in case you need to prepare a declaration. You may want to print some of the form declarations in the Appendix to this Manual.
- Familiarize yourself with the Election Judge Manuals for the county you're assigned to and link to them on your phone, tablet, or laptop. See p. 8 of this Manual for links to these documents.

Your rights as you serve as an attorney/poll watcher

Right to Be Present

Your signed credentials allow you to enter a polling place as an observer. As soon as you enter, show your credential to an Election Judge and sign in. There may be a table for that purpose, separate from the voter check-in tables. The Election Judge in charge of this process (often the Site Manager) usually asks you to hand over your credentials.

- Introduce yourself to the Election Judges if you can do so without disrupting their activities. Election Judges should be wearing nametags. If an Election Judge's name isn't visible, you may ask for it.

- There usually are multiple precincts at each polling location. Generally, you do not have to present more than one set of credentials, no matter how many precincts are voting at the polling place. However, Cook County Election Judges have been known to ask for credentials for each precinct. It is never worthwhile to argue with Election Judges over petty procedural matters; we will give you enough credentials so that you can comply with requests for duplicates.
- It's okay to leave and return to the polling place without giving a new set of credentials. Before leaving, ask the Site Manager if there is a sign-out sheet. If there is one, remember to sign in again if you return.
- You may work for a campaign openly when outside the Campaign-Free Zone, but make sure to put away anything partisan before entering a polling place. No one inside the Campaign-Free Zone or a polling place may wear political buttons, shirts, hats, etc. or distribute literature. However, voters may bring in materials to help them mark their ballots.

Right to Observe Opening – Election Day and First Day of Early Voting

These are tasks attorney/poll watchers perform prior to polls opening on Election Day and the first day of Early Voting.

- Observe as Election Judges check and set up equipment.
- Inspect voting machines to ensure that the count is at zero and there are no completed ballots in the machines.
- View, but not handle, all paper ballots and forms.

Right to Observe During Voting Hours

You have the right to observe election officials as they process voters, machines, and ballots. You may stand or sit behind them and look over their shoulders, but you cannot sit at their table.

- You may watch Election Judges making signature comparisons.
- You may watch to make sure Election Judges hand voters the correct ballot and that they initial each ballot they give to a voter.
- When a voter is asked to cast a provisional ballot, you may watch to ensure that the Election Judge inserts all relevant documents into the envelope with the ballot and hands the voter the proper receipt or instructions.

- You may stand close enough to hear conversations between a voter and an Election Judge (except when two Election Judges, one from each party, are assisting a voter with casting their ballot). Try not to stand so close to Election Judges or voters that they feel uncomfortable.

However,

- You may not touch equipment or ballots.
- You may not watch voters marking their ballots.
- You may not watch the machine display while someone is inserting their ballot.

Right to Interact with Election Judges

- If you believe that an Election Judge is misinforming a voter or not following proper procedure, respectfully correct the official. The most effective way is to direct them to their Election Judge Manual. You can ask to look at their copy or call the Hotline and we will try to find the provision for you. Searchable copies of the Election Judge Manuals can be found here:
 - Lake County: The Lake County Clerk now publishes three Election Judge Manuals—one for check-in judges, one for ballot box judges, and one for voter services judges.
 - lakedems.org/checkinjudgemanual-lake
 - lakedems.org/ballotboxjudgemanual-lake
 - lakedems.org/voterservicesjudgemanual-lake
 - Cook County: tenthdems.org/EJManual-Cook
 - McHenry County: mchenrydems.org/mchenry_county_election_judge_manual
- Whenever you observe something that appears to be a deviation from routine processing of a voter, such as ID being requested or the voter being offered a provisional ballot, you may politely ask the Election Judge the reason, or whether there is another way to handle the circumstance if you think there may be. You may address the Election Judge within earshot of the voter, which could also help the voter understand the situation.

Right to Communicate with Voters

You have the right to talk to a voter in the polling place when they are not voting or inserting their ballot into a machine, as long as you are not interrupting a conversation between the voter and an Election Judge. You should not speak to a voter during check-in.

- If a voter leaves the polling place without voting, you may follow them outside to find out why they left. Outdoors, you and the voter can talk so that you can determine what caused the voter to leave without voting and whether you can help the voter fix whatever issue kept them from voting.
- If a voter casts a provisional ballot, you may talk to them outside the polling place to make sure they know what to do to ensure the ballot is counted and the deadline for taking action. If you don't know why the voter was given a provisional and not regular ballot, you may ask them, although it would be preferable to ask the check-in judge before the provisional ballot is voted and while you can still suggest an alternative if the situation allows for one. See the Special Circumstances Summary Table on pp. 14-15.

Right to Observe Closing

- You should be inside the polling place at least 30 minutes before the polls close. Even though voters in line at closing may enter the polling place and vote, poll watchers may not be permitted to enter the polling place after the official closing time.
- If it appears that there will be a line outside the polling place at closing, call the Hotline as soon as possible. It may be prudent for us to send another attorney/poll watcher to make sure the last person in line at closing is allowed to vote, while you remain inside to observe the judges as they execute their closing duties after the last vote is cast.
- You may watch every step of the closing process and request copies of the tapes from the ballot boxes. You will have instructions about whether to report numbers to the Legal Coordinators.

PROBLEMS THAT MAY ARISE AT THE POLLING PLACE AND RECOMMENDED ACTIONS

This section flags problems you may encounter as an attorney/poll watcher and suggests solutions to typical problems. Many issues can be resolved onsite. Others will require a call to the Hotline for assistance, including our reporting the problem to the county clerk's office. When you resolve an issue onsite, please text one of the Legal Coordinators so we can document it. Sometimes a problem you resolve may recur later in the day, after you've left the polling place.

Provisional Ballots: Voters not being allowed to vote regular ballots

Voters who are refused a regular ballot and asked to cast a provisional ballot raise what are probably the most vexing issues you'll encounter at a polling place. The rules are somewhat complex, and so it's the area where Election Judges are most likely to make the wrong call.

What is a provisional ballot?

A provisional ballot is the same as a regular ballot, except it is not placed in the ballot box at the polling place. Rather, an Election Judge seals the provisional ballot in a special envelope. If found to be valid, the ballot is counted only after the regular ballots are counted. The voter also may be required to complete an affidavit to be inserted into the same envelope. One thing to look for is to make sure all relevant documents are inserted into the envelope with the ballot.

In what circumstances does a provisional ballot get counted (or not)?

There are two kinds of provisional ballots: (1) those that are counted automatically after verification by the County Clerk's office and (2) those that are counted only if the voter follows up as instructed within seven (7) days after Election Day.

Election Judges may choose to offer a provisional ballot in many circumstances because, for them, it's the simplest solution to a problem. But inevitably, many provisional ballots that require follow-up by the voter will never get counted since voters often fail to complete follow-up within applicable deadlines. Moreover, even the offer of a provisional ballot that requires no follow-up may cause a voter to leave the polling place without voting—either because they don't have time to fill out the accompanying paperwork or because they have been led to believe, erroneously, that provisional ballots are never counted.

For these reasons, we should make every effort to get our voters a regular ballot if that is an option. A provisional ballot that requires follow-up by the voter should be a last resort. And if we agree that a provisional ballot is necessary, we should do our best to ensure that the voter understands under what circumstances that ballot will (or will not) be counted.

Some of the most common circumstances that warrant issuing a provisional ballot that requires voter follow-up are those where a voter must show acceptable ID. These include voters on the inactive voter list, challenged voters, and first-time voters who registered by mail whose identities couldn't be confirmed by the clerk's office. You should encourage such a voter to leave the polling place and return with ID so they can vote a regular ballot. You can also brainstorm with them; often voters without a wallet have acceptable ID in their car. If a voter who needs ID accepts a provisional ballot, it won't be counted unless they bring ID to the County clerk's office within seven days of Election Day. Obviously, solving the problem on the spot is easier for the voter and ensures that their vote will be counted.

Sometimes you can't get to the Election Judge or voter fast enough to either suggest an alternative to a provisional ballot or explain what, if anything, the voter must do to ensure the ballot is counted. In that case, try to talk to the voter as they leave the polling place. If you encounter a voter who casts a provisional ballot because they don't have required ID, that will require voter follow-up. You should complete an incident report with the voter's name, the tracking number on their provisional ballot receipt, and any contact information the voter is willing to share. We may follow up with the voter to help them get required documentation to their county clerk within seven days of Election Day.

Specific circumstances in which an Election Judge might offer a provisional ballot, and whether or not follow-up by the voter (usually to produce ID) would be necessary, are outlined in the Table at pp. 14-15.

Vote-by-Mail Voters: How should a vote-by-mail voter who wishes to vote in person be processed?

Many voters who have requested vote-by-mail ballots may decide to vote in person instead. These voters are allowed by law to come to the polls, surrender their vote-by-mail ballot, and vote a regular ballot. If you see Election Judges not following this and the following procedures, call the Hotline.

- If the voter brings the vote-by-mail ballot and certification envelope or any part of that to the polling place, the voter is entitled to surrender it and receive a regular ballot.
- If the voter requested and received a vote-by-mail ballot, and the voter did not use it but does not have any part of the ballot with them, the voter is still entitled to vote a provisional ballot. They may also be asked to complete a form affidavit. Either way, the provisional ballot will be counted after the county clerk confirms that the mail-in ballot was not returned. The voter will not need to take any additional action.
- If the e-pollbook shows that a ballot was mailed to a voter but the voter did not request a vote-by-mail ballot, or the voter requested a vote-by-mail ballot but did not receive it, the voter should be given an affidavit to complete and sign and then given a regular ballot, not a provisional ballot. If the Election Judge offers a provisional ballot, refuses to give the voter a regular ballot, and cannot be convinced otherwise, the voter should vote the provisional ballot. As in the second circumstance described above, the provisional ballot will be counted after confirmation that the voter did not vote by mail. In no instance should the voter leave the polling place without voting.

Note: When asked to cast a provisional ballot, many voters will leave the polling place without voting. Very often, these voters are under the mistaken (yet widely held) belief that provisional ballots aren't always counted. But when a provisional ballot is offered as described above, it will always be counted once the county clerk has ruled out a duplicate vote. There is no need for any additional action by the voter. Make sure you explain this to anyone who appears frustrated or confused when offered a provisional ballot in these circumstances.

Unregistered, Inactive Voters, or Voters Who Moved: When should an Election Judge offer the option of Grace Period/Same Day Registration?

What is Grace Period/Same Day Registration?

Illinois voters can register for the first time or re-register to change their name or address at any polling place, as long as they vote at the same time. This is called Grace Period Registration, and the statute is included in the Appendix. Since the term Grace Period Registration is not descriptive, we call the process of registering and voting at a polling place “Grace Period/Same Day Registration” throughout this Manual.

Who should be encouraged to take advantage of Grace Period/Same Day Registration?

- Unregistered voters
- Voters on the inactive list
- Voters who moved within a county more than 30 days before Election Day
- Voters with signature match issues

If Election Judges fail to offer any of the voters listed above the option of Grace Period/Same Day Registration, you may suggest it—politely and deferentially—within the voter’s hearing. If the Election Judge continues to withhold this option, call the Hotline immediately.

When might a voter be flagged as “inactive”?

A voter may be flagged “inactive” in the e-pollbook if the county clerk’s office is notified by the US Post Office that the voter no longer lives at their registration address, if a mailing to a voter is returned as undeliverable, or if the voter has not responded to a mailed notice directing them to confirm the registration address.

What if a voter moved less than 30 days before Election Day?

Voters who have moved less than 30 days before Election Day do NOT have the right to Grace Period/Same Day Registration at their new polling location because they have not lived at their new address long enough to meet the residency requirement for registration. For this very small group of voters, the following rules apply:

- If they moved within the county, they can be issued the ballot for their old address during Early Voting. On Election Day, they can vote at the polling place assigned to their old address or at a Vote Center, where a ballot for their old address also can be issued. In these circumstances, an Election Judge may request a signed affidavit and two forms of ID to update their registration prospectively.
- If they go to the voting site assigned to their new address on Election Day and choose to vote there, they will be issued a provisional ballot and only their votes in federal races (President and House of Representatives in 2024) will be counted. Because there are many critical county and state legislature races on the ballot, we want to encourage Election Day voters to return to their prior polling place or go to a Vote Center, if at all possible. Call the Hotline if the voter requests assistance with transportation.
- Note that if a voter moved from a different county less than 30 days before Election Day, casting a provisional ballot where only votes for federal offices will be counted is their only option.

ID Requirements: When must a voter show ID, what qualifies as acceptable ID, and what happens if a voter can't produce acceptable ID?

When must a voter show ID, and how many forms are required?

- Registered voters generally do not need an ID to vote; their signatures are the only identification required. If, for example, Election Judges are telling voters to have their IDs ready or to present IDs, call the Hotline. Note, however, that Election Judges have technology to speed lines by scanning driver's licenses or State IDs. So, if Election Judges are scanning driver's licenses and state IDs and no one is being required to produce ID, that wouldn't be a problem.
- For Grace Period/Same Day Registration at a polling place, a voter must show two forms of ID, one of which includes the voter's current address.
- For Signature Recapture, a voter must show two forms of ID.
- When a newly registered voter who registered online or by mail is flagged in the e-pollbook, only one form of ID is required.

What qualifies as an acceptable form of ID?

- Valid identification includes, but is not limited to: State ID, Driver’s License, student ID, library card, credit card, Social Security card, Public Assistance card, voter registration card, passport, utility bill mailed to current address within the last 30 days. 10 ILCS 5/17-10 is reproduced in the Appendix.
- Acceptable ID need not have a photo and need not include a voter’s signature.
- In lieu of ID, another registered voter living in the same precinct can serve as a witness to attest to the voter’s identity. The Appendix includes a Declaration that can be used for this purpose.

What if a voter can’t produce acceptable ID?

- If you have a chance to talk to a voter who can’t produce acceptable ID, you may be able to help them brainstorm ID while they’re still at the polling place (something in their car or something that they have at home). If the voter needs to go home to find ID but lacks transportation, call the Hotline.
- If the voter can’t get acceptable ID then and there and can’t find a witness, the voter may cast a provisional ballot. The ballot will be counted only if the voter follows up by showing acceptable ID at the county clerk’s office within seven days of Election Day.

Special Circumstances Summary Table: Provisional ballot or regular ballot? Voter follow-up required?

Circumstance	Issue	Type of Ballot
Voter needs assistance	Voter has difficulty speaking, reading, or writing English or Spanish and requests help	Regular, with necessary assistance provided by one Election Judge from each party
	Voter with a disability requests assistance
Vote-by-Mail Ballot	Received a vote-by-mail ballot, and is returning it or a part of it today	Regular
	Requested but did not receive a vote-by-mail ballot	Provisional with affidavit. No follow-up necessary
	Received a vote-by-mail ballot and does not have it to return to the Election Judge	Provisional w/ affidavit. No follow-up necessary. Regular in Cook County.
Voter on the Inactive List	Voter marked “Inactive” in the e-pollbook	If can show two pieces of ID, Regular ballot. Otherwise, Provisional. Follow-up necessary.
Registered by mail	Voter registered by mail and the file is flagged in the e-pollbook	Regular ballot with one ID. If no ID, then Provisional. Follow-up necessary.

Circumstance	Issue	Type of Ballot
Voter not found in e-pollbook	Voter not found has insufficient or no ID	Provisional with follow-up necessary.
	Voter has sufficient ID (2 pieces)	Grace Period/Same Day Registration Regular ballot.
Name change	Voter's name has changed	Regular ballot. Affidavit required. No ID needed.
Early voter	Listed as voted early, but says they did not vote	Provisional with affidavit. No follow-up necessary.
Voter status or signature challenged	Challenge is not upheld	Regular ballot
	Challenge is upheld	Grace Period/Same Day Reg. w/ 2 IDs. Otherwise, Provisional w/ follow-up.
Voter moved	Voter moved more than 30 days ago and did not re-register	Grace Period/Same Day Registration in new precinct w/ 2 IDs. Regular ballot.
	Voter moved less than 30 days ago within the same county	Regular at old precinct or federal ballot only at new precinct.
	Voter moved to another county	Voter must vote in new county
Signature	Voter's signature is missing from the e-pollbook	Signature recapture, then regular ballot; requires 2 forms of ID.
	Voter's signature does not match the signature in the e-pollbook	Signature recapture, then regular ballot; requires 2 forms of ID.
	Voter's signature changed and needs to be updated (No match)	Signature recapture, then regular ballot; requires 2 forms of ID.
Votes after closing time	A court order extends voting hours on Election Day; appeal possible	Provisional. No follow-up necessary.

OTHER ISSUES TO LOOK FOR

The Campaign-Free Zone and the Public Forum Zone

- What is the Campaign-Free Zone?

That portion of a polling place property that is within 100 feet of the polling room (see measurement process below), and within which electioneering of any kind is expressly prohibited. The rules are complicated, so we summarize them below and have also reproduced the applicable statute in the Appendix.

- What is the Public Forum Zone?

All portions of every polling place property located outside the Campaign-Free Zone. Electioneering must be allowed to take place in this zone, whether the property is publicly or privately owned, except that a church or private school may choose to make its entire property a Campaign-Free Zone. However, public sidewalks by a church or private school are a Public Forum Zone as long as they are 100 feet from the door to the room of the polling place.

- How is the Campaign-Free Zone defined? At the beginning of the day, Election Judges place markers 100 horizontal feet from the entrance to the room where voting takes place.
- How is the 100 feet measured?
 - IF a polling room is in a private business building, a school, or church (or other place of religious worship) and the distance of 100 feet from the polling room ends within the interior of the building, THEN the markers must be placed outside of the building at each entrance used by voters to enter that building.
 - IF a polling room is in a public or private building with two or more floors and the polling room is located on the ground floor, THEN the markers shall be placed 100 horizontal feet from each entrance to the polling room used by voters.
 - IF a polling room is in a multi-floor building and the polling room is located above or below the ground floor, THEN the markers must be placed on the ground floor, 100 feet away from the nearest elevator or stairway used by voters to access the floor on which the polling room is located.
 - IF a polling place is in a church (or other place of religious worship) or private school that has chosen to designate its entire property a Campaign-Free Zone, THEN the markers must be placed accordingly.
- What to look for when monitoring the Campaign-Free Zone
 - If anyone inside the Campaign-Free Zone is distributing campaign literature or wearing political buttons, shirts, hats, etc., that constitutes impermissible electioneering. Parking a vehicle displaying campaign signs within the Campaign-Free Zone also constitutes impermissible electioneering. If a polite reminder doesn't stop the electioneering, and Election Judges don't enforce the Campaign-Free Zone, call the Hotline.
 - Conversely, if our candidates and volunteers are being kept from campaigning beyond the Campaign-Free Zone, whether by Election Judges or municipal authorities, call the Hotline.

- If you observe that the boundary between the Campaign-Free Zone and the Public Forum Zone has not been properly measured and defined (or if you believe the markers that the Election Judges set out have been moved), bring the matter to the attention of the Election Judges. Bear in mind, however, that any disadvantage flowing from incorrectly defined boundaries inures equally to all candidates.

Voter intimidation

If something is going on that might make voters (especially minority voters or new voters) uncomfortable, and Election Judges won't intervene, call the Hotline. This includes people outside the polling place claiming that you can't vote if you've been arrested or convicted of a crime, which is untrue. In Illinois, criminal convictions do not disqualify a voter.

Long lines

If long lines are building for check-in or for Grace Period/Same Day Registration or issuance of provisional ballots, there is a risk that some voters will leave without voting. Call the Hotline immediately.

Excessive provisional ballots

If large numbers of voters are being offered provisional ballots, this slows down voting for everyone and also suggests that Election Judges may be ignoring simpler solutions to voters' circumstances. Call the Hotline.

Excessive voter challenges

Check-in judges routinely compare a voter's signature to the one(s) in their software and check with a second Check-in Judge for concurrence that the signatures match. If you sense that an excessive number of signatures are being challenged by one or more Election Judges, or if a third party is regularly challenging voters' identities, call the Hotline.

Confiscation of papers from voters

Voters are permitted to bring materials with them to the voting booth to assist them in marking their ballots. This may look like campaign material (and often will have been produced by a campaign or political party), but as long as the voter is not actively displaying such material, they are entitled to have it. Election Judges may not deny voters the right to bring such materials into the voting booth. If they do, call the Hotline.

Polling place inaccessible to disabled or elderly voters or voters not literate in either English or Spanish

- Visually impaired voters, voters with limited English and Spanish proficiency, and voters with any other condition that impedes their ability to cast a ballot have the right to assistance. A friend or family member may help such a voter mark their ballot if they first complete an affidavit. Alternatively, two Election Judges, one from each party, may assist the voter. If a voter is denied such assistance, call the Hotline.
- A voter unable to get out of a car and into the polling place may “curbside vote.” Two Election Judges, one from each party, should go to the car and remain there while the voter marks their ballot. If Election Judges are not providing proper assistance to curbside voters, call the Hotline.

Problems with machines or supplies

- If a machine is not working properly, it should be taken out of service. The county clerk’s office can send a repair technician or bring replacement equipment. If you’re unsure whether Election Judges have notified the County clerk’s office, call the Hotline so we can report the problem immediately.
- If anything seems designed to hold down the vote, such as not having enough Election Judges, not having enough ballots, or not having enough voting booths set up, call the Hotline.
- In a county using pre-printed paper ballots, if supplies are running low and Election Judges have not called for more, call the Hotline so we can report the problem.

Unauthorized people in the polling place

If people are in the polling place who should not be there, and the Site Manager does not have them removed, call the Hotline. Some examples:

- Anyone in the polling place who is not voting or assisting a voter, unless they’re a credentialed poll watcher.
- Anyone, including a candidate, credentialed poll watcher, or voter, who is electioneering in the polling place.

Poll watchers or others sitting at the table with Election Judges

Poll watchers may stand behind or near judges to observe. If anyone other than an Election Judge is sitting at a table where Election Judges are working, and simply pointing that out doesn't solve the problem, call the Hotline.

Drop Boxes not readily accessible during Early Voting

All Early Voting sites in Cook and Lake Counties, and many in McHenry County, will have Drop Boxes available for returning vote-by-mail ballots. There should be a clear path to the Drop Box so that voters can access it without waiting in the line for in-person voting. If this is not the case, you should bring it to the attention of the Election Judges, and if they can't fix the problem, call the Hotline. Note that most Election Day polling places will not have Drop Boxes.

Unclear signage identifying the location of the polling place

Check to make sure that signs are visible to voters approaching the polling place from all directions. If they are not visible, or are confusing, call the Hotline.

Inadequate parking near the polling place

Check to make sure there's adequate legal parking accessible to the polling place. Inadequate parking can be a serious problem, especially as the last hour of voting approaches. As soon as you perceive that there may be a shortage of legal parking, call the Hotline so we can try to avert 11th hour problems.

Unclear signage at the entrances to the polling place, including any handicapped entrances.

Check to make sure that all entrances to the polling place are clearly marked, that handicapped entrances are easily found, and that signs leading to a polling room inside a building, especially one not on the ground floor, are easy to follow.

Campaign materials or voter guides left in voting booths

Election Judges should make sure that voters who bring materials with them to help them complete their ballot do not leave any of it in the voting booth. If you notice papers in a voting booth, you should not remove the materials yourself; report what you found to an Election Judge. If that doesn't solve the problem, call the Hotline.

POSSIBLE LITIGATION AND THE NEED TO DOCUMENT EVENTS

Six Major Concerns

There are six major concerns that may result in litigation and the need for Declarations. If you observe any of them, it's a legal issue and you should call the Hotline immediately. Please do not file anything in or appear in court on behalf of any campaigns unless you have prior written authorization to do so. There are other volunteers who will handle legal filings, but the information you collect is vital to this process:

1. a polling location opens late,
2. a polling place runs out of provisional ballots or regular ballots,
3. long lines result in people giving up on registering or voting,
4. voters' credentials challenged improperly,
5. large numbers of voters directed to the judge who issues provisional ballots, and
6. incorrect processing of a voter who requested a vote-by-mail ballot and wishes to vote in person.

Form Declarations can be found in the Appendix. You will be asked to fill one out if you observe any of the above events.

Accuracy in Your Documentation

The most important thing for any Declaration is that it be accurate. If the events you observe do not fit neatly into the form Declaration, you should use the generic Declaration, make the appropriate changes or just write out on a separate sheet of paper what you observe. After the Declaration is completed, you can have it notarized if a notary is available. If a notary is not readily available, you can still sign the Declaration verifying its accuracy.

Important Note on Voter Challenges

Third-person voter challenges are a very rare occurrence and must be based on one of the following circumstances.

1. The voter no longer resides at the address at which he is registered.
2. The person attempting to vote is not the same person registered.
3. The person attempting to vote has already voted.

If you observe even one challenge to a voter, that is cause for concern. You can make the Election Judges aware of poll watchers' rights and their own manual. Then take notes as needed to fill out the appropriate Declaration in the Appendix.

Important Note Regarding Long Lines

We have provided two forms of Declarations for use if there are long lines (more than a one-hour wait). One is for you to fill out and sign based on your observations. The other is to be filled out by a voter who leaves the polling location without voting. Try to be non-threatening when asking a voter leaving the polling location to sign a Declaration, and don't forget to be polite if they refuse.

If there are other issues of concern, including concerns about intimidation or discrimination based on race, ethnicity, gender or other group, please call the Hotline.

APPENDIX

Selected Election Code Provisions

Electioneering: 10 ILCS 5/17-29

(a) No judge of election, pollwatcher, or other person shall, at any special, primary or general election, do any electioneering or soliciting of votes or engage in any political discussion within any polling place, within 100 feet of any polling place, or, at the option of a church or private school, on any of the property of that church or private school that is a polling place; no person shall interrupt, hinder or oppose any voter while approaching within those areas for the purpose of voting. Judges of election shall enforce the provisions of this Section.

(b) Election officers shall place 2 or more cones, small United States national flags, or some other marker a distance of 100 horizontal feet from each entrance to the room used by voters to engage in voting, which shall be known as the polling room. If the polling room is located within a building that is a private business, a public or private school, or a church or other organization founded for the purpose of religious worship and the distance of 100 horizontal feet ends within the interior of the building, then the markers shall be placed outside of the building at each entrance used by voters to enter that building on the grounds adjacent to the thoroughfare or walkway. If the polling room is located within a public or private building with 2 or more floors and the polling room is located on the ground floor, then the markers shall be placed 100 horizontal feet from each entrance to the polling room used by voters to engage in voting. If the polling room is located in a public or private building with 2 or more floors and the polling room is located on a floor above or below the ground floor, then the markers shall be placed a distance of 100 feet from the nearest elevator or staircase used by voters on the ground floor to access the floor where the polling room is located. The area within where the markers are placed shall be known as a campaign free zone, and electioneering is prohibited pursuant to this subsection. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section, a church or private school may choose to apply the campaign free zone to its entire property, and, if so, the markers shall be placed near the boundaries on the grounds adjacent to the thoroughfares or walkways leading to the entrances used by the voters.

If an election authority maintains a website, no later than 5 days before Election Day, each election authority shall post on its website the name and address of every polling place designated as a campaign free zone. This information shall be immediately provided to any person upon request, and a requester shall not be required to submit a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

The area on polling place property beyond the campaign free zone, whether publicly or privately owned, is a public forum for the time that the polls are open on an Election Day. At the request of election officers any publicly owned building must be made available for use as a polling place. A person shall have the right to congregate and engage in electioneering on any polling place property while the polls are open beyond the campaign free zone, including but not limited to, the placement of temporary signs. This subsection shall be construed liberally in favor of persons engaging in electioneering on all polling place property beyond the campaign free zone for the time that the polls are open on an Election Day. At or near the door of each polling place, the Election Judges shall place signage indicating the proper entrance to the polling place. In addition, the Election Judges shall ensure that a sign identifying the location of the polling place is placed on a nearby public roadway. The State Board of Elections shall establish guidelines for the placement of polling place signage.

- (c) The regulation of electioneering on polling place property on an Election Day, including but not limited to the placement of temporary signs, is an exclusive power and function of the State. A home rule unit may not regulate electioneering and any ordinance or local law contrary to subsection (c) is declared void. This is a denial and limitation of home rule powers and functions under subsection (h) of Section 6 of Article VII of the Illinois Constitution.

Grace Period Registration: 10 ILCS 5/5-50

Sec. 5-50. Grace period. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Code to the contrary, each election authority shall establish procedures for the registration of voters and for change of address during the period from the close of registration for an election until and including the day of the election. During this grace period, an unregistered qualified elector may register to vote, and a registered voter may submit a change of address form, in person in the office of the election authority, at a permanent polling place established under Section 19A-10, at any other early voting site beginning 15 days prior to the election, at a polling place on election day, or at a voter registration location specifically designated for this purpose by the election authority. Grace period registration and changes of address shall also be conducted for eligible residents in connection with voting at facilities under Section 19-12.2 of this Code. The election authority shall register that individual, or change a registered voter's address, in the same manner as otherwise provided by this Article for registration and change of address.

If a voter who registers or changes address during this grace period wishes to vote at the election or primary occurring during the grace period, he or she must do so by grace period voting. The election authority shall offer in-person grace period voting at his or her office, any permanent polling place established under Section 19A-10, and at any other early voting site beginning 15 days prior to the election, at a polling place on election day, where grace period registration is required by this Section; and may offer in-person grace period voting at additional hours and locations specifically designated for the purpose of grace period voting by the election authority. The election authority may allow grace period voting by mail only if the election authority has no ballots prepared at the authority's office. Grace period voting shall be in a manner substantially similar to voting under Article 19A.

Within one day after a voter casts a grace period ballot, or within one day after the ballot is received by the election authority if the election authority allows grace period voting by mail, the election authority shall transmit by electronic means pursuant to a process established by the State Board of Elections the voter's name, street address, e-mail address, and precinct, ward, township, and district numbers, as the case may be, to the State Board of Elections, which shall maintain those names and that information in an electronic format on its website, arranged by county and accessible to State and local political committees. The name of each person issued a grace period ballot shall also be placed on the appropriate precinct list of persons to whom vote by mail and early ballots have been issued, for use as provided in Sections 17-9 and 18-5.

A person who casts a grace period ballot shall not be permitted to revoke that ballot and vote another ballot with respect to that primary or election. Ballots cast by persons who register or change address during the grace period at a location other than their designated polling place on election day must be transmitted to and counted at the election authority's central ballot counting location and shall not be transmitted to and counted at precinct polling places. The grace period ballots determined to be valid shall be added to the vote totals for the precincts for which they were cast in the order in which the ballots were opened.

In counties with a population of less than 100,000 that do not have electronic poll books, the election authority may opt out of registration in the polling place if the election authority establishes grace period registration and voting at other sites on election day at the following sites: (i) the election authority's main office and (ii) a polling place in each municipality where 20% or more of the county's residents reside if the election authority's main office is not located in that municipality. The election authority may establish other grace period registration and voting sites on election day provided that the election authority has met the notice requirements of Section 19A-25 for permanent and temporary early voting sites.

First time voter ID requirement: 10 ILCS 5/5-105

First time voting. A person must vote for the first time in person and not a vote by mail ballot if the person registered to vote by mail, unless the person first provides the appropriate election authority with sufficient proof of identity and the election authority verifies the person's proof of identity. Sufficient proof of identity shall be demonstrated by submission of the person's driver's license number or State identification card number or, if the person does not have either of those, verification by the last 4 digits of the person's social security number, a copy of a current and valid photo identification, or a copy of a current utility bill, bank statement, paycheck, government check, or other federal, State, or local government document that shows the person's name and address. A person may also demonstrate sufficient proof of identity by submission of a photo identification issued by a college or university accompanied by either a copy of the applicant's contract or lease for a residence or any postmarked mail delivered to the applicant at his or her current residence address. Persons who apply to register to vote by mail but provide inadequate proof of identity to the election authority shall be notified by the election authority that the registration has not been fully completed and that the person remains ineligible to vote by mail or in person until such proof is presented.
